The Pamlico Sail & Power Squadron (PSPS) is a non-profit organization dedicated to teaching boating skills and safety, civic service and fellowship. PSPS is a unit of the United States Power Squadron®, America's Boating Club the largest non-profit boating organization supporting 33 Districts and 450 Squadrons in their mission and honored on numerous occasions for civic contributions. PSPS encompasses the Pamlico River and Pamlico Sound areas and is headquartered in Washington, NC. Over 135 members from Beaufort and Pitt counties share an appreciation for boating and their skill range from new boaters and personal watercraft to those with a Captain's License.

USPS certified educational instructors conduct a number of public seminars and advanced boating courses on a wide array of topics. The comprehensive public introductory boating class, America's Boating Course, meets the requirements of the North Carolina State Law certifying the student. The squadron promotes boating education and safety at local community events for both children and adults.

Qualified members conduct free Vessel Safety Checks for more than 150 local boats annually to promote safe boating. Members are involved in the Cooperative Charting Project, a USPS and NOAA joint effort to maintain published governmental waterways chart accuracy.

PSPS publishes the Sound of the Pamlico Newsletter every other month. Our PSPS advertising supporters are also listed on our PSPS Web Site with a link to your individual web sites.
