Speaker: Keith Rittmaster - Natural Science Curator, NC Maritime Museum and the Director, Bonehenge Whale Center in Beaufort, NC

Topic: A presentation and overview of the many species he encounters through his work and the conservation issues faced including the marine wildlife becoming entangled in discarded fishing line/nets, etc. He will introduce thirty-four species of living cetaceans (whales, dolphins, and porpoises) that have been documented in the waters off the coast of North Carolina. As well as with hands-on display items (ex: bones, teeth, baleen, oil).

Please make your checks payable to "PSPS", indicate your entrée choice and mail or drop off to Liz Wheeler at 204 Appomattox, Chocowinity, NC 27817.
